About the Association of European Cancer Leagues (ECL)

Founded in 1980, ECL is one of the most prominent civil society organisations active in cancer policy at European level. ECL is a non-governmental, non-profit umbrella organisation which unites, supports and represents cancer leagues across the WHO European region. ECL counts 31 members across 26 European countries, which are national and regional cancer societies, who together employ more than 8,000 people and over 300,000 volunteers. They spend more than €750 million every year to fight cancer and represent over 570 million citizens. ECL engages in advocacy and lobbying and participates in EU-funded projects. We also organise capacity building initiatives, educational and policy events, and we collaborate with global and European institutions, other NGOs and research institutes. For further information, please contact ECL@cancer.eu

About the The Cyprus Anti-Cancer Society

Founded in 1971, the Cyprus Anti-Cancer Society is a non-profit organisation with the mission of improving the quality of life of cancer patients, their families, and caregivers by providing a comprehensive array of palliative care services. The Society strives to ensure that every cancer patient receives the care and support they need during their cancer journeys. The Society raises awareness about cancer prevention and early detection, diagnosis, treatment, and palliative care. It also contributes to the development and implementation of the national strategy on cancer, and advocates for the rights of cancer patients.
