

Make a Difference in Cancer Prevention - Join the Youth Ambassadors Programme!

The Association of European Cancer Leagues (ECL) Youth Ambassadors for Cancer Prevention brings together highly motivated young people who envision a Europe where all avoidable cancer deaths are prevented through individual lifestyle choices, supported by coordinated governmental policies and actions.

Our goal is to:

Raise awareness about the importance of cancer prevention and the European Code Against Cancer (ECAC) messages through different actions (research, advocacy, communications, health education...) at a local, national, regional and European level.

To do so, ECL YA's programme aims to:

- Provide training and learning opportunities
- Create a collaborative network between the Youth Ambassadors and other entities
- Support Youth Ambassadors to develop and implement personal and collaborative actions
- Ensure that the programme sets clear objectives, goals, expectations, and responsibilities for Youth Ambassadors

Responsibilities

- Time dedication and active participation in program activities. (Aproximately 6 hours/month)
- Developing and implementing personal and collaborative actions to promote the ECAC.
- Attending meetings and training sessions.

Elegibility criteria

- Age range: 18-35 years old
- Residency in a country belonging to the WHO European Region
